THE LEGISLATURE.

THE SENATE IS ABOUT FINISHED FOR THE WEEK.

The House of Representatives Goes For Absent Members-General Notes of Interest.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, JULY 18TH.

THE SENATE.

After prayer, roll call and the reading of the minutes the Judiciary Committee reported unfavorably on the claim of James W. Robertson for $2750 for services rendered as chamberlain of ex-queen Liliuokalani. And on motion the said petition was laid on the table.

The Judiciary Committee reported a new title for the Land Act which was adopted.

The bill to regulate the terms of the Circuit Court was further amended by merging the Puna district into that of Hilo. Instead of Kona and Kau, and the bill passed its third reading as amended.

The Senate then took up the Act placing canigra on the exempt list as regards taxation. On motion of Senator Rice the term of exemption was extended to ten years instead of five, and the bill passed its third reading as amended.

Minister Damon presented a memorandum of expenditures under the Loan Act for the past year, showing the total amount expended on all the islands for public works, etc., to be $152,946.29.

On motion of Senator Waterhouse the Act regarding the Labor Commission was read the first time and referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Senator Schmidt reported from the Special Committee on Business Depression. Report filed.

Senator Wilcox's bill to prevent foot-binding was read the third time and passed unanimously.

House bill 19, extending saloon license for two months, was next taken up on its first reading. On motion, after the reading of the first section, the bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senator Waterhouse moved to adjourn to Monday morning, but the motion was defeated by a tie vote, President Wilder voting in the negative.

The Senate then adjourned to tomorrow at 10 a. m.

THE REPRESENTATIVES.

House met at 10 a. m.

Mr. Kaeo presented a resolution that a committee be appointed to investigate the expenditure connected with the police department, and more especially with the outlay for the purchase of caps, ammunition, leggings, etc.

In the late trouble, the mover said, the police had come to the front like men and done their duty equally well with any other branch of the Government's defenders. Yet it is said that members of the police force have considerable amounts deducted from their monthly wages to pay for articles such as those specified in the resolution.

The resolution carried.

A message from the Senate announced that the Military bill had passed third reading in that body. Another message announced the third reading by the Senate of the House bill relating to Circuit Court terms.

The bill to amend the law relative to the suppression of disease among animals was taken up for second reading. A report of the committee on commerce, recommending certain amendments, was considered with the bill.

Messrs. Winston, Richards, Robertson and Ryecraft discussed the provisions of the bill. Mr. Robertson wanted to keep indefinite expressions out of the bill.

Who was to decide, he asked as had the BULLETIN, when the inspection is "unusually onerous or severe?" He moved to strike out that part of the section. Carried.

Mr. Kaeo moved that the fee for inspecting "every other animal or bird" be twenty-five cents each. Lost.

Mr. Kamao moved a report from the judiciary committee on the bill relating to appeals.

The joint resolution on the liquor question was taken up for consideration. It passed without discussion on a unanimous vote.

The Senate military bill was referred to the military committee.

The bill relating to appeals to Judges of all the Circuits excepting the First was read a second time, and considered with amendments recommended by the judiciary committee.

Mr. Richards, in the course of a discussion of a proposed amendment, complained that Mr. Robertson absented himself from the House a great deal.

Mr. Kamao moved that the consideration of the bill be deferred till tomorrow, when perhaps Mr. Robertson would be here with his amendments. Carried.

At 11:45 the House adjourned for the day.

AN OLD LANDMARK GONE.

Peaceful End of a Long and Useful Life.

Captain Archibald McIntyre, one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of Honolulu, is dead. After a period of ill health extending over two years, he quietly expired at his home in Nuuanu avenue at 6:15 p. m. yesterday, the 17th inst. With the exception of a brief period on his last day, when he recognized the members of his family, Captain McIntyre was unconscious from Sunday afternoon until his death.

The lamented captain was a native of Greenock, Scotland, and reached his 76th year on May 10 last. He arrived in Honolulu on the bark Francis Palmer in 1855, so that he was a resident of forty years. He was in command of the Government tug-boat Pele, that ended its service eleven or twelve years ago, for two years after his arrival. In the reign of Kamehameha V. Captain McIntyre was commissioned as a pilot of the port of Honolulu, and he held the office until April 1, 1893.

Captain McIntyre leaves two sons and four daughters, one of the sons living at Portland, Oregon, and a daughter at San Francisco. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. D. P. Birnie, takes place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the house. As the deceased was a prominent Odd Fellow, members of that order will conduct their rites at the grave.

The late Captain McIntyre was of a quiet, friendly and unobtrusive disposition, holding the universally friendly regard of the whole community. He was also thoughtful and intelligent above the average, and manifested a deep concern in the welfare of his adopted country. His disappearance from the land of the living in the removal of one more of the good old men who have given Honolulu of the past its creditable character for quality of citizenship.

CRUISE OF THE LEHUA.

HAWAIIAN FLAG HOISTED ON FRENCH FRIGATE SHOALS.

All the Idols Have Disappeared From Necker Island-General Notes of the Trip.

The Hawaiian cruiser Lehua Commander Berry, docked at Kinsu wharf at six o'clock this morning, three days from French Frigate shoals. The Lehua left here Tuesday night the 9th inst, and has been on her voyage just eight and one-half days. She arrived at Necker island at six o'clock on Friday morning and after planting the flag left that evening for French Frigate Shoals, where she arrived Saturday morning, leaving there that night and arriving in this port as above. On the return trip the Lehua experienced head winds and a difficult passage. Minister King, Government Surveyor Dodge, Curator Brigham of Kamehameha Museum and others who accompanied the expedition all landed on the islands. Seven turtles and a lot of birds and shellfish were brought home but all the idols have disappeared, thanks to the visit of H. B. M. S. Champion to the islands last summer. While the landing on Necker was easy, that on the Shoals was quite different, as the Lehua had to stand about four miles off. A survey was made of both islands and new flagstuffs and flags put up.

THE POLICE COURT.

Four Che-Fa Gamblers Convicted and Fined.

At this morning's session of the District Court the case of the four Portuguese arrested yesterday for battering a Chinaman was postponed.

An individual who answers to the name of Willie only, and may consequently be termed a "Willie boy," pleaded guilty to assaulting a Chinaman and was fined $5 and costs.

Two natives, who loved saki not wisely but too well, made the usual deposit with the clerk of $3 each.

W. Hin and Ah Ing, whose transactions in the opium trade caused their arrest on suspicion, were discharged, and Choy Hung will explain on Saturday next how a certain amount of that noxious drug came into his possession.

A miscellaneous lot of natives and Chinese to the number of seventeen also accused of having the seductive drug in their possession, were polle pros'd and went on their seventeen ways rejoicing at the leniency of the prosecution or its inability to convict.

Beni, Kealanui alias W. Elia, Daniel and Mrs. Elia, all of whom ought to know better, were tried and convicted of running a che-fa game. Kealanui alias W. Elia was fined $150 and costs and the other three got off with $50 less. No reduction in sentence to the lady. Appeal noted.

Pila Paau and Makea Paau, charged with kidnapping, will be tried on Saturday.

The case of E. Woodward, who is charged with seduction, comes up tomorrow.

Best unlaundried shirts equal to any $2 made up shirt in town only $1 at McInerny's.
